Chairman's Challenge

Remember to bring along your punky looking critters for John to judge. I have seen a couple of photos to date – it should be an interesting collection!

Which reminds me – if anyone could take a few photos of the critters and perhaps some of Ian Ethell's demonstration, or demonstration pieces, I would be grateful to receive them for the archive and next week's bulletin.

Chris Parker video

A reminder that we agreed with Chris that the video of his demonstration would only be available during March. Hence today is the last day for you to have a look - the link to the video is <https://youtu.be/iuFW-yVRe9I>

Club shop.

Elaine was kind enough to come round and pick up supplies for the shop before I left to go on holiday. All the items requested either from Chestnut, Simon Hope, or the latest garage clearance should be there in orange bags with people's names on them. Prices are on the items themselves (ie inside the bags).

I am sure Elaine would appreciate some help transferring the boxes from her car to the hall. Also it would be good for her if she could park her car in front of the hall, in the space to the left of the disabled bay.

Second hand tools and machinery

A good number of tools and most of the Aussie wood from the garage clearance have already been claimed, but there are still some bargains remaining, plus lots of pen kits and accessories, as well as some excellent books. Pricing has been kept pretty much to what I paid for them (with club funds), so I hope you think they are very reasonable.

Hands on Day Saturday 13 April 2024

Participants should all have received instructions for the day from Geoff by now. Hopefully we will have a good, productive session.

Gallery

Nothing from club members this week, so here is one from the oldfern collection, turned by my son Daniel. A jewellery box in spalted beech with inner shelf, for my nephew's daughter. I am not sure how many jewels she has collected by her 1st birthday, but she looked interested in the photo I saw of her opening her present.
